

members, office bearers and full-time workers is nothing other than the primitive androcentric notion inherent even in the Christian administrations.

2. Recommendations

2:1 Status of Women Should be Raised

Women are normally sensitive, creative and are more alert in many instances and industrious than menfolk. They can do things of importance and achieve many things which are already evident in their involvement in the Church as a separate entity under PWF. They should also be considered eligible to responsible positions such as office bearers, committee members and preachers in the public worship services.

2:2 More Time for Worship

Regarding religious freedom, Women Fellowship should be encouraged to have their own worship separately during one of the week days at night at local church level. Similarly, district, presbytery and synod PWF should be encouraged to hold at their appointed venue and date convenient to them not collided with any of the aforesaid meetings. Such annual Women meetings are being practiced and is so rewarding in other synods like Mizoram and Manipur.

2:3 The Need of Education

From educational point of view, women should be encouraged to pursue education as much as menfolk are encouraged. Even in case the womenfolk are not aware of the importance of education, they should be motivated, guided and persuaded. The proper balancing of bringing up the youngsters should be maintained so as not to disappoint young men when they look for their betterhalf in the society. The shortcoming of women being less educated means that delegation of women to
